It may be interesting for us to know something about birds. Birds don't fly high up in the sky because the thin air there doesn't hold them up and also it becomes difficult for them to breathe. They fly near the ground so that they can see where they are and look for places they know. Some sea birds fly so low over the sea that waves often hide them. Many birds fly at night so that they can rest and eat during the day. They know when to fly south. Perhaps cold weather and shorter autumn days tell them when to migrate. They fly south because they know when winter comes, there will be little food for them to eat in the north

- 1) In which season do some birds start to fly south?.....
- 2) Why don't birds fly high up in the sky ?.....
- 3) Some birds fly near the ground so that they .....
  - a) can see where they are
  - b) can see their friends
  - c) can find some seeds
  - d) can speed their moving
- 4) Some birds fly at night because they .....
  - a) are able to fly much faster
  - b) are afraid of flying during the day
  - c) can find food in daylight better
  - d) can breathe more easily at night

(True or False)

- 1) Perhaps the migrating birds know when to fly south because of cold weather & shorter days (    )
- 2) Birds can find more food in south (    )
